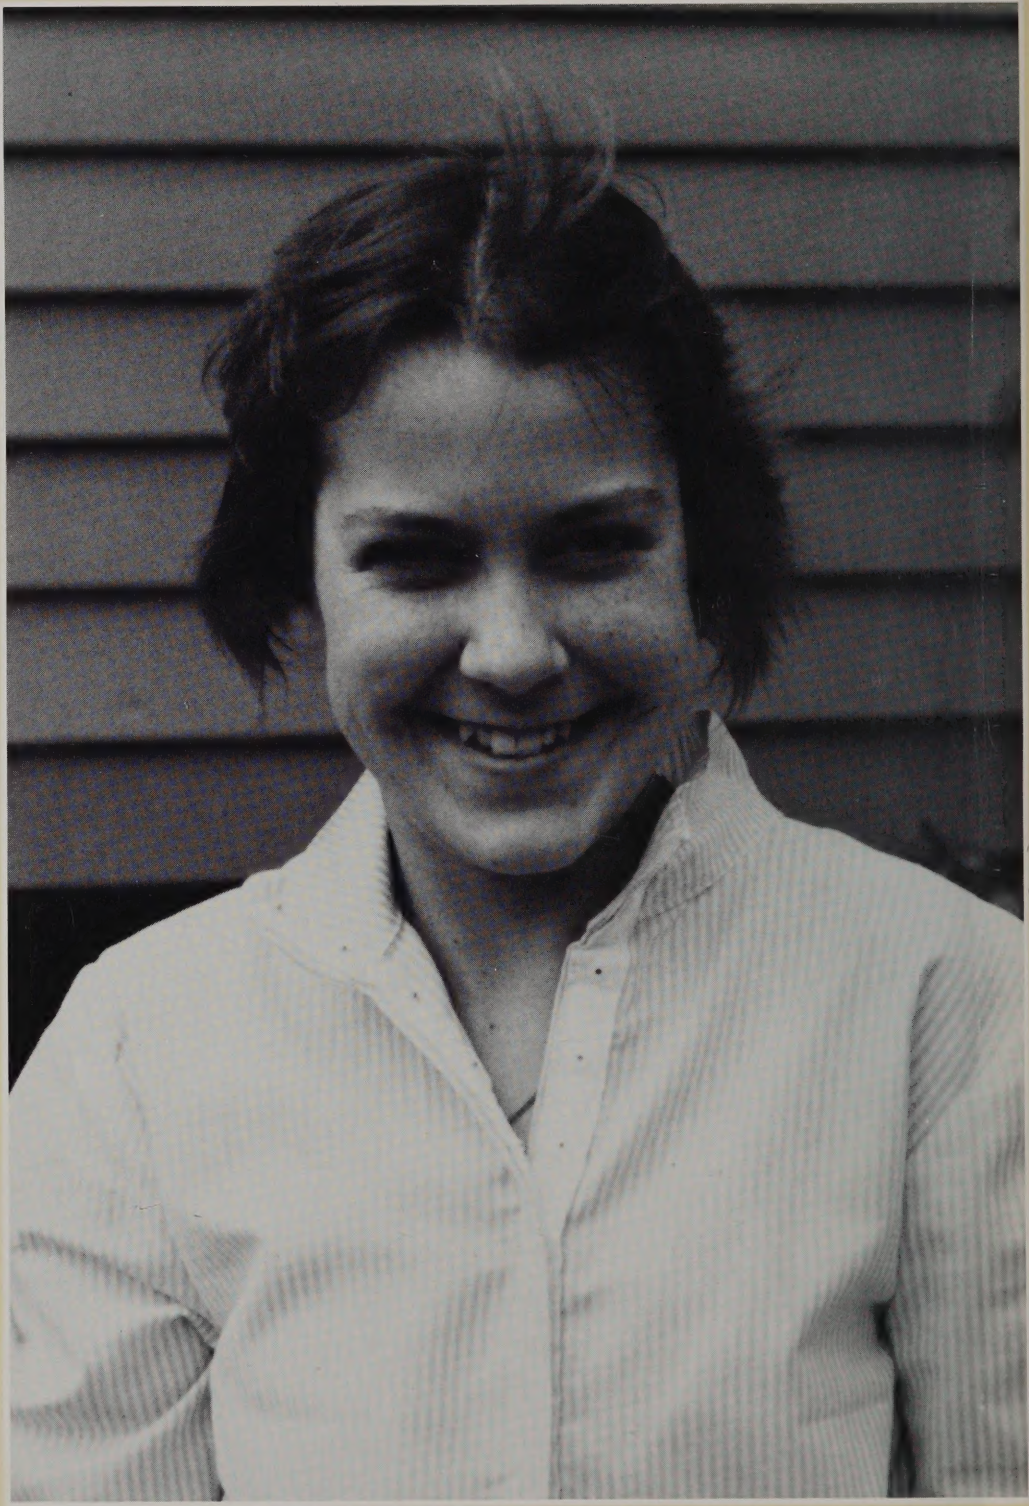
Dedication

The class of 1991 would like to dedicate Permanent Press to a former classmate and friend, Stephanie Ann Shepple. In August of 1986, Stephanie passed away. She had been fighting against cancer; a fight that brought out her spunk and courage even more than usual. Stephanie was a remarkable person, filled with youth and kindness. We hope that she will be remembered in a special way.



Stephanie Ann Shepple

Appreciation

The class of 1991 would like to express our thanks to our class advisors, Mrs. Regina Chaple and Mrs. Jeannette Clark. Mrs. Chaple, who joined our class at the beginning of our sophomore year, expertly prepared us to start an important journey. With her enthusiasm and organization, she brought the class together, and helped us plan some very important events. Without the financial know-how that Mrs. Clark has, we would have been lost. She organized the terrific fundraiser "Service With A Smile", which greatly added to our treasury. Also very enthusiastic, Mrs. Clark has become a vital part of our class.

With the guidance of these two wonderful people, the class of 1991 has successfully made it through their years here at Littleton. They have helped us, not only in planning for the major events that we have as a class, but also they have helped us to grow and understand one another.

Taking on a class as large and as opinionated as ours is not an easy task, and the seniors would like to thank Mrs. Chaple and Mrs. Clark for the time and effort that they have devoted to us. Never forgetting the way that they organized the inspired us, we hope that they will remember us as fondly as we will remember them.

Spirit Week Sensations

Spirit Week 1990 brought an 1849 gold mine, the Celtics, army life, the big city, and Sunset Strip to Littleton High.

The seventh and eighth graders ('95 and '94) poured the cement for their Walk of Stars, which featured the likes of Kevin Costner and Tom Cruise. Movie posters plastered the walls, giving their hall the feeling of Hollywood just before the season's biggest movie hit opens. Everyone wore formal gowns and suits for the dress-up day competition. Hollywood has never glittered so brightly as it did in the front lobby of our school.

Freshmen ('93) created a city of their own, as they "decorated" their lockers with graffiti and put up hot dog stands along the hall. Crosswalks and signs helped to direct students as they made their way to class. And wandering about the place were bums and blind pencil sellers.

The Sophomores ('92) expressed their patriotism by setting up bootcamp in the hall and whistling "The Star Spangled Banner" as they walked to class. Sporting fatigues and combat boots they won the dress-up day competition, as well as the color day, where their color was appropriately green.

Juniors ('91) proved to be loyal to New England sports by filling their hall with sports paraphernalia, from a full size basketball net to the Bruins banners. For the dress-up contest, they all wore shirts that supported their favorite New England team. Between classes, "one-on-one" basketball games added to the excitement.

Finally, the seniors ('90) won the hall competition with their rendition of an abandoned mine. Derailed pushcarts, cobwebs, boulders, and rotted lumber added to the coal mine ambiance, and many seniors wore overalls and miners' hats to keep in the spirit of things.

Wednesday and Thursday afternoon were spent playing Simon Says, gatorball, volleyball, softball, and tug-of-war. Classes competed against each other; and in softball, the winners played the teachers. Leaving everyone else in the dust, the juniors captured the sports title, but the sophomores won Spirit Week overall by a wide margin.

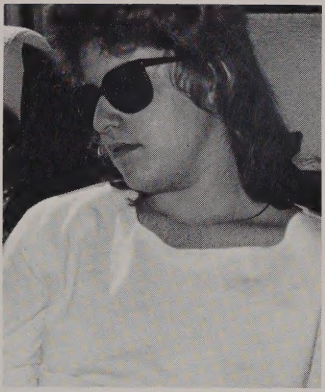
Italy, France and England held more fun and excitement than we could ever had imagined. The flight to Italy was 8 hours long, with a stop over in Paris. Treated with the beautiful sights and weather of Italy, we knew that we were in for an excellent trip. The museums, eating experiences, discos, historic sights, and especially the Italian men made memories for all of us. Because we were in Rome for Easter, a big Italian holiday, we were able to experience something not many Americans do. After hearing Easter mass in St. Peter's Square, we were blessed by the Pope himself.

After 4 eventful days in Italy, a little confused and unorganized, we boarded our train from Pisa to Paris. We slept in couchettes, rooms the size of a closet containing 6 tiny beds. The Eiffel Tower awaited, and the Bateaux-Mouches took some of us up the Seine River, while others explored the University of Paris' night life. And then after many of us had walked down the Champs-Elysees, a famous street in Paris, Mrs. Clark got us lost in the subway-and she was the only one who could speak the language!

The first breathtaking views of England were seen from the English Channel. Although the beautiful weather we had for most of the trip was replaced with typical British weather-rain, fog, drizzle (and was that snow on the ground?)-our spirits could not be dampened. In between tours of those famous historic sights, like Big Ben and the Queen Mother's "house", we hit the stores, Madame Trousseau's Wax Museum, and the theatre. Finally, we collapsed. By the time we made it through Heathrow Airport, we found our seats and fell asleep, some of us for the first time in 10 days. Happy memories in our minds and film in our cameras, we prepared ourselves for a trip back to reality. After seeing the gorgeous sights and tasting the flavor of life over there, we could hardly wait to recount our experiences to those we left behind. Thank you to those who chaperoned and put up with our crazy antics, and especially to Mrs. Clark for making this French trip such a memorable and great experience. We will never forget it, and will always look back to those times with fond, vivid memories.

European Vacation



During the long drives to different cities in Europe, instead of listening to the guide, many (most . . . okay, all) of the students caught up on the sleep that they had missed the night before. May 11, 1990

We had all imagined how the evening of May 11, 1990 would be. We had envisioned the room, the gowns, and the total prom atmosphere. And as we walked into the Royal Plaza Hotel in Fitchburg, all of these dreams became a reality. For the juniors who had planned the evening, this was especially fulfilling, because we could see that all of our hard work had been worth it.

After greeting our friends and admiring one another, we found our seats. At each place setting, there was the prom souvenir, a glass embellished with a black bow tie, with "Littleton '90" printed on it.

While some ate the filet mignon and others ate the chicken cordon bleu, the D.J., Jim Harris, played continuous music in the background. After dinner, there was time to dance while others stood anxiously in line to have their prom pictures taken. The first slow song brought couples together for what would be one of our most memorable high school events.

As the juniors paraded around the dance floor with their dates, the wives and husbands of the teachers had a double duty in deciding on a queen and a king, and their respective courts. Finally it was announced that Brooke Schwieger was the queen, Mark Ogilvie, the king, and Karen Agresti, Sara Beagen, Becky Julio, Kristen Hayes, Erik Tratnyek, Raymond Galloni, Eric Kallenberg, and Scott Dungey were their courts.

Although the evening ended much too early, we can never forget all of the fun and excitement that the night provided. A special thanks to Mrs. Chaple and Mrs. Clark, for helping the junior class through this great endeavor, and for making it as enjoyable as possible. Also, thanks to the teachers who attended, and everyone else who helped to make this special night possible.

December 15 '90 - A Special Night

The 1990 Winter Cotillion, held on December 15, was a huge success. Sponsored and organized by the Senior Class, this year's cotillion started the holiday excitement a little early. The seniors transformed the gym into a winter wonderland, complete with a Christmas tree, lights and presents. The cotillion committee, headed by Andrea Donnelly, worked together to arrange for a disc jockey, refreshments and decorations. This year's cotillion was a bit more unique than past cotillions- a Prince and Princess were nominated by the photographer, policeman, and the D.J. And the winners were . . . David Bittner and Andrea Donnelly. Overall, the evening was enjoyed by all who attended, seniors and underclassmen alike.

The 1990 Littleton Varsity Baseball team's story is one of ups and downs. After losing seven of their first eight games, the team won three straight games, and five of their next seven to finish the year with a 6 and 9 mark. Coach Glenn Legault comments: "The first half of the year was really disappointing, but our basics improved, and we ended up beating each team at least once." The Tigers were led by league all-stars Craig Wright and Marc Perdue. Wright had a .389 batting average with only 2 errors, while, as Coach LeGault put it, Perdue's pitching "improved tremendously." With 14 juniors, the class of 1991 was well represented. Dave Atkins rose to the top with 23 hits and 3 home runs, the most on the team. The addition of the Green brothers, Adam and Paul, was a definite boost, while Mark Ogilvie provided some extra punch with a .307 batting average. Tom Gosson was extremely helpful to the Tiger pitching staff. Other members of the class of '91 included Scott Dungey, Matt Masson, Brian Truscott, and Eric Kallenberg, who didn't commit an error all season. Ken Hamm, a member of the class of '93 also showed promise as a freshman.

The 1990 spring track season was unique in a very special way; both boys and girls joined to form one team. Coaches James Penny and Jim Duff worked hard to strive for equality on the team, and there was no discrimination. Despite the combination of the two forces, the team was small, and therefore did not win meets often. However, there were no shortcomings on individual performances. Most noted was junior ('91) member Raymond Galloni, who set a new school record for the high jump. Breaking the record at the District E Class Championship with a jump of 6 feet and 7 inches, and placing second at the Baystates Games in the high jump competition, Ray is ranked third in New England. Rachella Soracco also qualified for the District E Class Championship, and she placed third in the 800 there. Lisa Winner and Joanna Kotze consistently did well in the 100 yard dash, while Shawnna White mastered the discus. Although they may not have won the meets, they all gave their best, and know that that is even better than winning.

The 1990 Littleton Softball team proved to be a match for any team. Both Coach Knox and Coach Schwieger gave their all to help the girls improve their skills and work together as a team. With 9 wins and 5 losses, the varsity team made it to the State competitions. Hard work and effort started to pay off until the team faced Quabog in the finals. Although they lost this game, the season was overall very successful. Rare talent and high spirits kept the players motivated, and each member gave her all. The junior varsity team also had 9 wins and 5 losses. Coach Jodi Brush helped to make their season special, and hers, as well as the athletes' hard work paid off.

The Spring 1990 tennis team enjoyed a very memorable season. Although they did not win any of their eight matches, the team felt that the season was a valuable experience. All of the players improved their own techniques to form a more skilled team.

Remembered for their contributions, Sue Atkins and Hana Yamashita led the team with their outstanding performances. First time players, especially Heather Dennehy, improved dramatically throughout the season. Julie Tratnyek's enthusiasm and sense of humor helped to strike up the moral of this team. Credit must also go to Coach Marr for helping these girls to become better tennis players.

Just as they began to lose hope, an exciting match with Bromfield picked up their spirits. Although they ended up losing this game, it left them with enough vivacity to finish the season with a smile.

Overall, the players have fond memories of the season. Each member acquired her own personal accomplishments, as well as a great feeling of giving her all to the team. What the participants learned most from this trying season, is to keep practicing and to keep their rackets back!

Field Hockey

This year, the field hockey team pulled together for a very successful season. Captains Jocelyn Humelsine and Mary Coughlin showed excellent management of the team, but they also kept spirits high, which is an important part of any sport. With practices starting during the summer, members knew that they would be living field hockey until the very end of the season. The team remembers the tiring double sessions at the end of the summer, long bus rides accompanied by favorite tunes, and most importantly, missing the State competition by only ½ of a point. Although this disappointed all members, underclassmen on the team know what they have to look forward to, and will be encouraged to work even harder next season. The team would like to thank everyone that supported them, but especially Mr. Silva. With such a caring attitude, he made a wonderful coach.

Soccer

Get ready to rap with our little soccer poem,
The season's long over and we've shown what we've shown.
It's time to reflect back on the good times.
Something to do when we're not writing rhymes.
We started out feelin' numerous aches and pains,
But we still scored 34 goals in our first 5 games.
Todd and Ray were plagued with injury,
But hey, what can you do but stay off the knee.
Dungey was a real defensive hero, the opponent didn't know what to do,
Even when he was subbed by studs like Grant and Mike too.
Ah! Captains Kevin and Erik, these warm-ups are a bore.
What? Just shut up guy and do 50 more.
We had a good team, including Blinn, no joke,
And all season long the kid never choked.
Erik and P.J and ahh! even Shuji,
Together this threesome was as large as Mount Fuji.
Hi, my name's Greg and these are the Daves,
We crushed the opponents like a wall of blue waves.
Right behind them, tall, red, and tan,
There stood the magnificent goalie, Scan the Wo-man.
On to Andreas and Kevin, their offense was clutch,
They were often benched for scoring too much.
Skinny, Swish and Bradshaw were spazes to say the least,
When on the field they proved to be a ferocious beast.
To Darin Clarke, his power did not yield,
For he was the only superstar to score against Bromfield.
And that's it, that's our poem, that's all we have to say,
So good bye, so long, adieu, and have a nice day.

In the past, the Littleton football team has always been proud of itself, even if its season wasn't so great. But this year, the Tigers really had something to be proud of, as they improved from 3-6-1 mark to a 4-5 showing. Although the hard hitters of Littleton lost a tough Homecoming game (20-21) to its archrival, the Westford Grey Ghosts, they kept the spirits high and went on to have big wins against West Boylston, Murdock, Lunenburg, and Clinton. The power-packed offense scored 20+ points in seven out of nine games during the 1990 season. However, it was the stalwart defense that led the Tigers to their victories with heavy hitting and prolific turnovers. The Tigers were led on and off the field by tri-captains Mark Ogilvie, Steve Partridge, and Bryan Truscott. Special teams captains Brad Lubenau and Trey Sager should also be given credit for keeping their teams together so well. Instilled in the Tigers are many values; among them are the togetherness of family, pride, commitment, and trust. These lessons not only enhance the athlete, they also better the person.

Soccer

The 1990 Girls' Soccer team opened this year's season with a five-game winning streak. The team had high hopes concerning the State competition. However, knee, ankle, head, and various other injuries sidelined eight girls, five of whom were starters. This young team struggled through their last five games, and finished the season with a 5-7-1 record. Although injury plagued their performance on the field, off the field this team had a lot of fun together. Pasta Poster Parties, Camp-a-Rama, and Leigh's Bologna salad were highlights through the season.

The team will be losing six seniors next fall, but they will still have a very strong team who will be successful in the future. Team members would like to thank their coach Jodi Brush for her great dedication and enthusiasm, as well as their parents for their continuous support. This year, they had a lot of laughs and will always remember this season as a stepping stone for the years to come.

The Littleton Boys Varsity Basketball team was faced with many a challenge in their 1990-1991 season. First, the Tigers underwent the season with only nine players. All, however, played with great enthusiasm and excitability, showing their desire to make this a winning season. Captain Craig Wright led the way at forward for the Tigers, while the twin tower power of Ray Galloni and Mark Ogilvie was often unmatched. Trey Sager controlled the ball at the point guard position, while Adam Green and Brad Lubenau shared the second guard spot. Lubenau and Paul Green were defensive specialists, while Matt Masson and Mike Ericsson were role players in key situations. The senior team saw victory against Ayer early in the season, and then against Groton. All in all, the Tigers experienced a plethora of success on the court this season.

Basketball

The Girl's Varsity Basketball Team faced a new year, a new season, a new team and a new coach. Girls Basketball was starting all over again from scratch. The new team consisted of 3 Freshmen, 3 Sophomores, 3 Juniors and 4 Seniors. They would only return with 2 varsity starters from last season, Karen Agresti and Becky Julio, who were also chosen as team captains. Diversity and inexperience handicapped the team. However, through fundamentals and playing time, each player established herself and learned from the mistakes she made along the way. They will always remember the Christmas Tourney Shawsheen game as one of the highlights of their season when everything came together. Mr. Silva has built a solid foundation for next season, now there's only one way to go . . . UP. Becky, Karen, Rachella and Brooke would like to wish the team the Best of Luck next year.

'90 - '91 Wrestlin

Wrestling, as a select few know, is a demanding sport, on occasion. Despite our Christmas Vacation hiatus, practice was far more than dribbling a ball around a gym. Two miles of running, over one hundred up-downs, one hundred fifty push-ups or three hundred sit-ups, and six minutes of spins everyday is just the beginning of each two and one half hour practice. Quad-meets, tournaments and sucking in weight just add to the sheer joy of participating. Finding new ways to cheat when weighing in is the main intellectual pursuit of the season, as those of us that used the magnet or bounced the scale know. Our memories of the season will include a vivid picture of the Middle School Gym, Coach's bald spot, rolling the mats, a smokey bus ride to Methuen, Brian Scanlan's triumph over Tri-County at sixties, and most certainly the leadership of our sometimes present Coach, Stubby.

The National Honor Society

Organized by Mrs. Shannon Webster, members of the Littleton Chapter of the National Honor Society started the year with the traditional candlelight ceremony. Officers Shuji Takahashi, Trey Sager, Nicole Fredette, and Craig Wright delivered speeches about the virtues of leadership, service, character, and scholarship that make up the Honor Society student. After new members had received their membership cards and pins, and old members had received their roses and "sports cars", Mr. Vincent Franco awarded Shuji Takahashi with the Superintendent's Award.

This year, National Honor Society members participated in Operation Desert Shield, which, along with Donelan's Supermarkets and Fort Devens army base in Ayer, organized a drive to collect and send goods to American troops located in and around the Persian Gulf. N.H.S. members distributed flyers around town as well as collected items before school in the Littleton Junior/Senior High School lobby. The National Honor Society also plans to participate in the Boston Walk for Hunger again in May. Students remember last year's walk with . . . soreness! The organization will end its year with the annual banquet later in the spring.

The Permanent Press Staff

It begins as a Ladder Diagram, and an intangible idea of the theme. It takes on more shape after the title has been decided upon. Once work has actually been done, the final goal can be seen. Permanent Press began as ideas in April 1990. The Ladder Diagram committee then put some shape into the book by determining what will be covered on each page. Next, Shuji Takahashi sketched an original idea for the cover, and the staff knew that there was no turning back.

During the summer of 1990, junior Erin Feeney and Editor-in-Chief Paula Ribeiro attended a yearbook workshop which is put on annually by Jostens, the company that publishes Littleton's yearbook. There, while Erin was learning the basics of layout, copywriting, and design, Paula was attending seminars about enhancing the important elements of a yearbook. They came away with excellent ideas for Permanent Press.

Once school had started in the fall, the actual production of this yearbook could begin. Although the staff was limited, things went smoothly, basically, and the final product became a very tangible thing. Another important part of producing a yearbook is the business management. Headed by Ms. Mary-Lou Lordan, the Yearbook Business staff sold ads to local companies, as well as started to plan additional fundraisers. Thanks go to Kim Boudreau, Krystn Creed, and David Slarskey for putting great effort into the advertisement campaign.

Later in the fall, Jostens' representative Mr. John Neister came to Littleton Junior/Senior High School to teach interested staff members the basics of layout. The response to this session was overwhelming, and as a result, many underclassmen received some much needed experience for their books in the future.

The Yearbook staff would like to thank Mike Estepp, the staff photographer. Since his freshman year, Mike has been taking great photos for the book and deserves special thanks for always being on call. Thanks also to Mrs. Regina Chaple, for without her guidance, the yearbook would never have gotten off the ground. The staff would also like to thank Mr. John Walker, his cooperation and support have helped us greatly. Lastly, thanks to all who donated pictures or wrote articles for this book-your efforts are greatly appreciated.

The prom committee of 1989-1990, as any other year, went through months and months of rigorous planning and organization to prepare for "the best night of our lives." We began this process as early as the spring of our sophomore year by forming a dedicated committee and brainstorming our ideas and expectations for this special night. The summer passed and we rejoined in September, eager to plan and anxious to get moving.

At our weekly Thursday afternoon meetings, we discussed every aspect of the night, with the first major decision being the date and time in accordance with the hall. It was here that we spent a majority of our search, calling various function halls, such as the Westford Regency, White Cliffs, and finally deciding on the Best Western Royal Plaza Hotel in Fitchburg. Although the name sounds deceiving, this brand new function hall was everything we were looking for, with wide open space, adequate meal choices, beautiful burgundy tapestries, and, first and foremost, it was within our price range.

Too quickly, December passed; it was a month when things that had been out of synch started to fall into place. We had booked our hall, set the time, selected a disc jockey, and we were now ready to chose a theme that would dictate accessories and invitations. That was were the confusion and chaos began.

We wanted our theme to be originated from a song, so we had to decide upon a song first . . . too bad we couldn't pick one! For three meeting we listened to tapes and more tapes, we god giddier and sillier trying to sing or remember favorites, without getting anywhere. We all had different ideas of what we wanted, and at a barren room 4 Tuesday afternoon meeting, a vote was taken. "Melt With You" by Modern English barely pulled in front of the others, much to the dismay of absent prom committee members. A revolution happened that day as arguing, screaming and angry juniors surrounded Mrs. Chaple and Mrs. Clark, our class advisors. They had no choice but to call a revote. This pleased many, but set the whole process back weeks with wasted time. Our final choice, "Wish You Were Here" by OMD, and our enthusiastic decision for black and white decorations made up for lost time.

Exuberantly, we picked glasses embossed with a black bow tie, followed by matching place cards and invitations within a week. All we had to do was order the red roses and white freesia that the queen and her court would recieve, and reaffirm the disc jockey. Finally, the committee saw the visions of the night that they had spent so much time planning as the invitations went on sale during the lunch periods in early May.

The whole experience gave the class a sense that they could work together as a team. The class of 1991 would like to thank our advisors, Mrs. Chaple and Mrs. Clark, for putting up with us, especially through this process. Their previous experience helped us tremendously, for we didn't have a clue as to where to begin. They kept countless meetings from wandering from the true point, and without them, the night wouldn't have been as successful.

Peer Leadership Club

The 1990-1991 Peer Leadership Club has been a small, select group of dedicated students who have been involved in some new and innovative ideas. The advisors and instructors are Donna Jewett, the Home Ecology teacher, Barbara Whitcomb, the school nurse, and Glenn Legault, a physical education teacher. A regional Peer Leader, Jill Pickard, has been involved in the networking of the Prevention Center Conference, and senior Heather Nelson has also been involved as a spokesperson at the conferences.

The goals of Peer Leadership have been to build a team trust and enhance communication skills, as well as expand a training in sexual education, suicide, and depression awareness. The group also wants to sharpen its skills in assertiveness and refusal techniques.

A highlight of the '90-'91 year has been the annual retreat at Camp Dakota, where Peer Leaders learned more about trust building, stress management, sharing, and communicating with each other. Peer Leaders also had an opportunity to experience the high ropes course at Portsmouth N.H. High School. On this course, the Peers Leaders must learn to trust each other, as well as find self-esteem within themselves. The Peer Leaders have been training all year with the goal of discussing drug, alcohol, and peer pressure issues with the sixth and seventh grade students at the Russell Street Elementary School. By attending Peer Leadership conferences, and the annual Peer Leader Institute, many of Littleton's Peer Leaders had the opportunity to collaborate on new ideas, as well as meet new and interesting people.

Led by President Andrea Donnelly and other members of the class of 1991, this year's Student Council has had an exciting year. The School Store, which Arne and Alex Olsen helped to build, was opened under the direction of Brendon Thompson. It proved to be the success that the Council had hoped it would be, and there are many plans to make it better in the future. In October, a member from every class attended a conference in Wachusett to discuss some new ideas for our school. Each person came back with exciting thoughts on school improvement. Also this year, with the arrival of the new school lunch coordinator, the Student Council tried to improve everyone's favorite restaurant, the Littleton Junior/Senior High Cafeteria. Seniors Jen Poulin, Vice President; Rich Montminy, Secretary; Danya Sloboda, Treasurer; Delegates Raymond Galloni and Erik Tratnyek, as well as senior class president Karen Agresti help to lead the way to a better school for everyone. The Student Council wishes the best of luck to the class of 1991.

Forget Me Not

Forget me not as time goes by,
Forget me not as you grow older,
Forget me not as you meet new people,
Forget me not all the joyful memories we shared,
We had some hard times, but we had more fun.
We laughed together and cried together.
You came running for help, and so did I.
You and I'll never fall apart as long as you
Forget me not.
Love, Jonne.

"The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation. A fatal attraction is holding me fast. Pockets filled with dreams. From first to last the dream is never past. Dreams transport desires. Chase the light around the world. We told you what to dream. A silence that speaks so much louder than words, of promises broken. The more I know, the less I understand. It makes me humble to be so green. If I never loved, I never would have cried. Like a rhythm unbroken. Kissing shamelessly. The heart to feel what others feel inside * The whole wide world an endless universe. A world that we all must share. We see what we want to see. This is not a test. A grim intimation of what is to be. So much poison in power. Success is to give. If you choose not to decide, you still have made a choice. No ones ever wrong. Theres a new wind blowing they say. Paul J. Menano

I love you Mom, Dad, and you too CM. My memories of you LHS are many. Playing baseball in which TG hit a homerun in the bleachers. Exchanging baseball cards with TG. Going to the prom with DR and having a great time. Getting that first car was a big moment in my life. But it also was a sad one when one October AM I had an accident with CM and DR in it. Meeting some new friends and some great teachers made my years there very good. I want to thank all my teachers for their help and support during my months out of school especially you Mr A and Mr S and of course Mrs K and Ms M and Ms Lord. These people and many others are truly as the saying goes "A True Friend is the most precious of all possessions and the one we take the least thought about acquiring." Many thanks must be given also to my family who without them I would not have been able to come this far.

Class Will

I, Alyson Abbott, leave my sister, Courtney, happiness at LHS in the years to come.

I, Karen Agresti, leave Knomey some peace and quiet and Todd the best hour of his life.

I, Jason Andrews, leave knowing I'll never come back and hang out like all the "has-beens."

I, David Atkins, leave Mr. C's infinite wisdom to those who wish to take it.

I, Erik Atkins, leave knowing that Mr. C will never tell a good joke and that his predictions will never come true.

I, Liza Baker, being the ungrateful wretch that I am, leave nothing to nobody.

I, Sara Beagan, leave a little dazed, somewhat confused, but basically happy and with great memories.

I, David Bittner, leave nothing to be desired.

I, Jason Bonica, leave an apology to Coach Piscione and two more years to my sister.

I, Kim Boudreau, leave LHS knowing that these were the best years in my life.

I, Derek Cannistrarro, leave knowing that LHS wasn't all that bad.

I, Julie Carlson, leave with thanks to the Lord for all he has given me and good luck in the future to all LHS students.

I, Christopher Chernosky, leave unexpectedly.

I, Darin Clarke, leave the soccer team the power of pandamonium.

I, Jeff Corbin, leave knowing that Mr. C was never wrong.

I, Mary Coughlin, leave my smile to Mrs. B.

I, Krystn Creed, leave Mrs. Beasley my great backrubs and the best of luck to Kristen and Elizabeth.

I, Andrea Donnelly, leave Mrs. B with someone else to dress in the halls and make fun of her new rules.

I, Scott Dungey, leave Bill the horrors of the trash locker.

I, Mike Ericsson, leave a pillow for all those students who can't stay awake for the first four periods.

I, Mike Estepp, leave my camera to any moron who thinks he can figure it out.

I, Melissa Fetterhoff, leave with wonderful memories and hope the same for my brothers and sister.

I, Nicole Fredette, leave knowing that future classes will also have to suffer through Mr. Spaulding's research paper.

I, Gary Gagnon, leave Nashoba Tech my diploma from Littleton High School to remind them what a mistake they made.

I, Raymond Galloni, leave knowing that the best friends anyone can find are in this small town.

I, Tim Grant, leave the best of luck to my sister in H.S. and leave one step closer to a dream.

I, Paul Green, leave J.P. the bill for my car.

I, Kristen Hayes, leave the best of luck to my brother Mike, the class of '94, and to all my friends.

I, Jen Heald, leave Mrs. Leonard & Mr. A my thanks for two years of summer school!!

I, Melissa Hill, leave Michelle Coulter and Shannon Pickard two more years here.

I, Jocelyn Humelsine, leave my friends all the laughter in the world.

I, Becky Julio, leave a pack of florescent green gum to Mrs. Beasely.

I, Eric Kallenberg, leave knowing that it's better to burn out than to fade away. (Def Lep.)

I, Jaye Kotze leave Joanna my friends, Sue and Genny. And I leave G.B. and S.G. with our happy memories.

I, Amy Kunelius, leave Muffy with two more years at LHS and flowers on cars.

I, Connie Lentz, my brother Charles the best of luck in everything he does.

I, Daphne Letournel, leave my costume for Spanish class, my green pajamas for the school and my love for the Butlers.

I, Brad Lubenau, leave Mrs. Beasley's gym class knowing I'll never do another squat-thurst again.

I, Phil Marshall, leave Mr. C the $4.50 I owe him for the Cureo shelf I stole.

We, Kevin Masson and Erik Traynyek, leave 1 broken T.V., 2 broken doors, 69 broken hearts, and a partridge in a pear tree.

I, Matt Masson, leave Mr. Marr's room Wooly-Bullying and Mr. Corbett as my friend.

I, Paul Menano, leave my father my car and all my insurance bills that go with it.

I, Chuck Miller, leave all my missing homework to every teacher I had at LHS.

I, Mark Montminy, leave knowing I graduated with the best, the class of '91.

I, Rich Montminy, leave Littleton High School knowing that I voted for Trey Sager whenever possible.

I, Heather Nelson, leave the best of luck to the class of '91.

I, Mark Ogilvie, leave Mike C. my football # if he is worthy of it. Ogilvie rules and Crory Drools.

I, Steve Partridge, leave the 8th grade women to my brother Sean.

I, Andreas Pattis, leave with a lot of interesting ideas on America and its people.

I, Marc Perdue, leave Rich Halloran all the I.A. traditions.

I, Jill Pickard, leave my cousin Jamie my best wishes and good luck in the future.

I, Jen Poulin, leave someone else for JG to put the blame on, CW a JR 2, and knowing GD made a fashion statement.

I, Paula Ribeiro, leave Andrea a new peer-edit partner, and Erin a yam that looks like Morrissey.

I, Robert R. Romilly Jr., leave knowing that I no longer have any classes to fall asleep in, and that Mrs. Beasley has to find a new student to kick out.

I, Kathy Rouille leave L.A. Gomez and a bass.

I, David Russell, leave Lin Bonica and Cathy Campbell, Littleton High School.

I, Trey Sager, leave as co-champion with Jaye, and my coolness to be challenged by any who try.

I, Kerstin Schmidt, leave my cheese-mustard-sandwich to the lunchroom at LHS and to my little sister lots of luck.

I, Brooke Schwieger, leave good and bad memories to the people who were part of them.

I, Jill Scioli, leave my skipping techniques to Kristen Kenney.

I, Danya Sloboda, leave mighty dog biscuits for the hounds and crewcuts and flattops for the weases.

I, Rachella Soracco, leave Roma all of the good times and memories that we shared.

I, Doug Swisher, leave Dave Zoller an 8' square bent piece of wood.

I, M. Shuji Takahashi, leave petty things to petty people.

I, Bobby Trainor, leave LHS knowing "It's Alright!"

I, Bryan Truscott, leave football camp in the hands of Dave C and Erik Z.

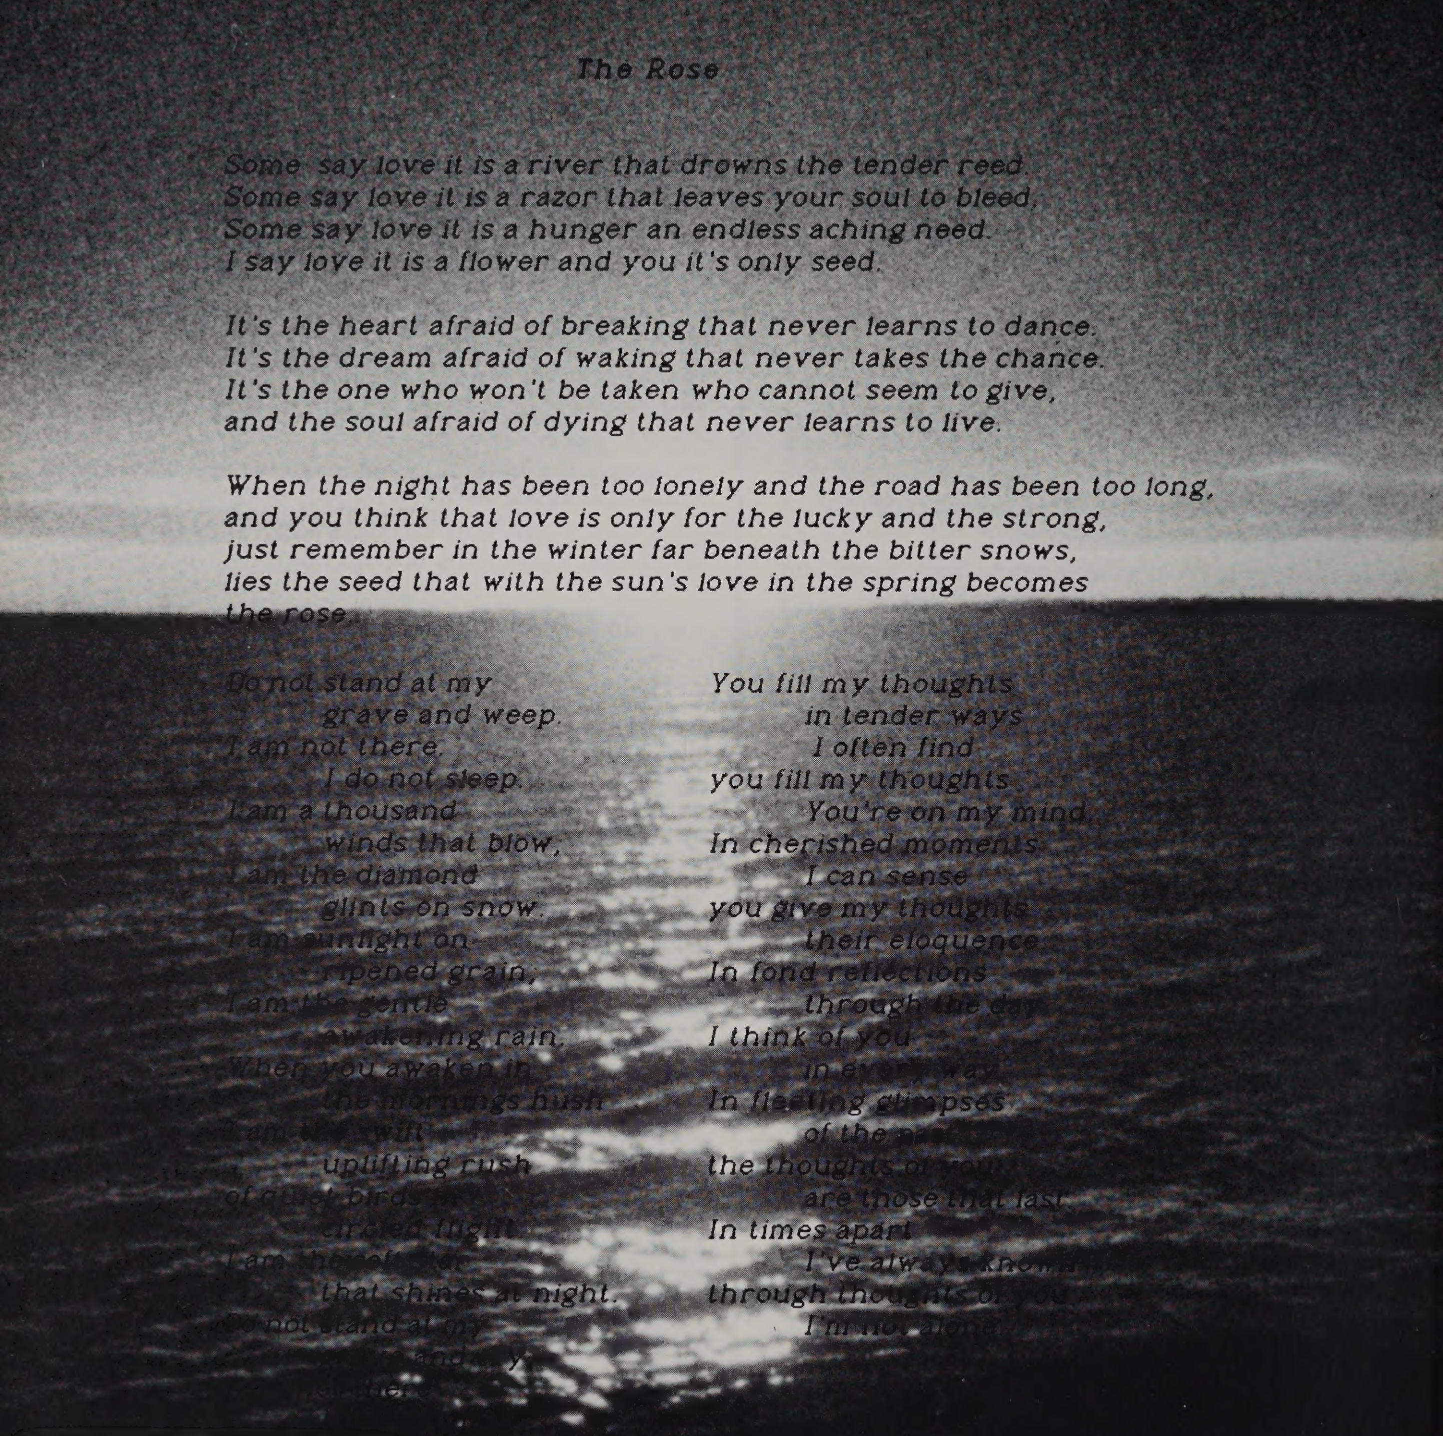
I, Shawnna White, leave? Now? Can I really? About time!

I, A.V. Wright, leave nothing to no one, if you want something go out and get it yourself.

I, Craig Wright, leave my brother, David, and my cousin, Steve, all the luck in sports.

The wedding party, above. Mr. Legault, Jill Scioli, Krystn Creed, Marc Perdue, Mark Ogilvie, Jen Heald, Daphne Letournel, Mr. Annaldo.

At left, Paula Ribeiro. Above, Bob Trainor.



The Rose

Some say love it is a river that drowns the tender reed.
Some say love it is a razor that leaves your soul to bleed.
Some say love it is a hunger an endless aching need.
I say love it is a flower and you it's only seed.

It's the heart afraid of breaking that never learns to dance.
It's the dream afraid of waking that never takes the chance.
It's the one who won't be taken who cannot seem to give,
and the soul afraid of dying that never learns to live.

When the night has been too lonely and the road has been too long,
and you think that love is only for the lucky and the strong,
just remember in the winter far beneath the bitter snows, lies the seed that with the sun's love in the spring becomes
the rose.

Do not stand at my
grave and weep.
I am not there.
I do not sleep.
I am a thousand
winds that blow,
I am the diamond
glints on snow.
I am sunlight on
ripened grain,
I am the gentle
awakening rain.
When you awaken in the mornings hush
I am the swift uplifting rush of quiet birds in circled flight
I am the soft star
that shines at night.
Do not stand at my
grave and cry.
I am not there.

You fill my thoughts
in tender ways
I often find
you fill my thoughts
You're on my mind
In cherished moments
I can sense
you give my thoughts
their eloquence
In fond reflections
through the day
I think of you
in every way
In fleeting glimpses of the past
the thoughts of you are those that last
In times apart
I've always known
through thoughts of you
I'm not alone.

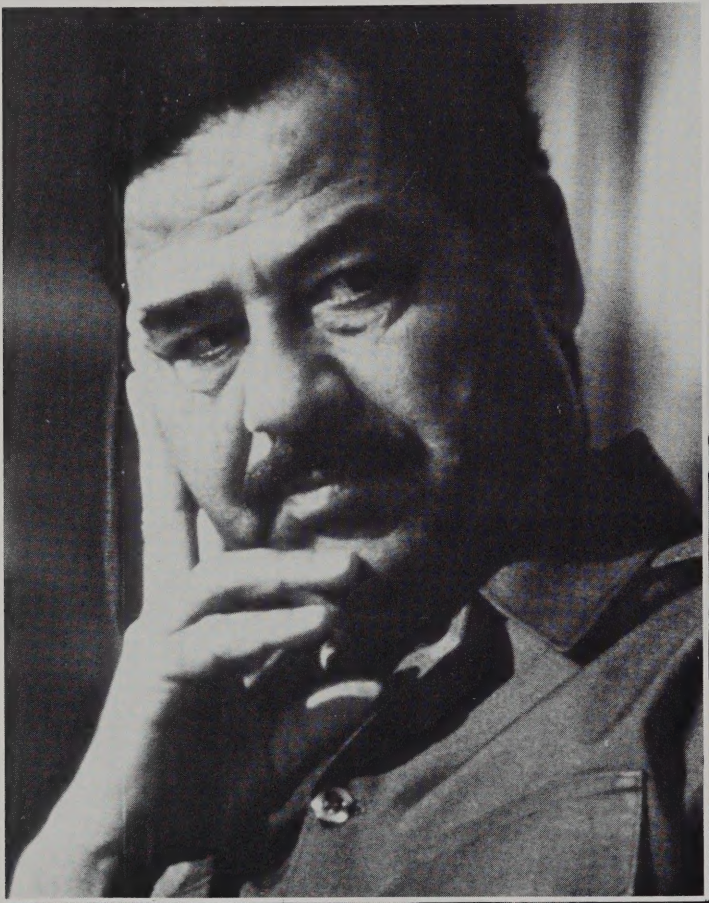
Mandela Released

Nelson Mandela, long time prisoner in South Africa, was released in early 1990. Mandela spent nearly 20 years in prison in South Africa, a country that is controlled by the British.



War

On January 17, 1991, American forces began maneuvers to remove Saddam Hussein from Kuwait. Hussein had been occupying Kuwait since August 1990, claiming that it is his right to take over that country. There has been much debate over America's involvement in this Persian Gulf crisis, but after January 15, which was the United Nations deadline for Hussein to evacuate, America decided to take actions against Saddam.

Margaret Thatcher Resigns - Former

Prime Minister of Britain, Thatcher resigned on after almost 10 years in that office.

Secretary of State of the Soviet Union, Shevardnadsy, resigned when he felt that Gorbachev was not acting to improve democratic conditions in that state.
